Course Format:

This course uses a variety of teaching/learning methods including discussion, personal reflection, experiential exercises, student presentations, role-plays, group activities and especially case studies. Our faculty aims to create a learning environment where the learner is actively engaged in inquiry, critical thinking and problem solving. The classroom provides you with a place where you can learn with and from others in a cooperative and collaborative manner.

Learners are expected to take a very active part in class discussions and take responsibility for their own learning. Be a positive and co-operative team member. Columbia College uses a facilitation model of instruction where the facilitator's role is to facilitate learning. The expectation is that students will come to class prepared with pre-class homework completed. The facilitator will engage learners in activities that are based on their completed homework and readings. An enthusiastic and positive approach in the classroom will create an atmosphere that will help every student develop the knowledge, skills and attitudes that are needed for success.

How students conduct themselves in our classes will, to a large extent, mirror their conduct in society and at a future work site. For example, if they have a tendency to ask questions, challenge the ideas of others in a respectful manner, draw out the best from their colleagues, and encourage both group development and task accomplishment in this class, it is likely they will do the same at work. A high level of student involvement and developing professionalism is expected in the classroom as learners work towards their goals.

Please refer to Columbia College's Attendance Policy and Regulations (ADM-P151) for detailed information on Attendance Requirements.

Academic Integrity:

Academic dishonesty is a serious offence and can result in suspension or expulsion from Columbia College.
